Spotlight on Lege Artis

Art, medical science and cutting-edge technology come together at Lege Artis Skin Care Inc., a Downtown Toronto clinic that has been providing state-of-the-art skin care since it first opened in 1996. Led by Irina Revo, a European dermatologist with a light touch, a discerning eye and an engaging bedside manner, Lege Artis attends to a diverse clientele with varying skincare needs - from problem acne and rosacea to sagging skin and excess facial and body hair. "We see clients from different age groups," says Revo. "And we see both men and women in our practice." To achieve the best results for its clients, Lege Artis is always on the lookout for proven skincare technology. It recently purchased a Vbeam machine - next-generation laser technology that has become the gold standard worldwide for treating facial redness, rosacea, facial and nose veins and post-acne scars. "We've been getting amazing results with this machine," says Revo. She also continues to rave about her Omnilux Light Therapy - medical-grade non-laser technology that effectively treats a wide range of skin conditions such as acne and sun damage. Patients looking to rejuvenate their skin also love the results they get with Omnilux, says Revo. To complement its technology and dermatological expertise, Lege Artis also carries select skincare products by G.M. Collin and Vivier Pharma. Revo is particularly excited about Vivier's SkinTx system, designed to correct hyperpigmentation, aging skin, irregular skin texture and tone, and acne. "People get a youthful glow after using these products," says Revo. "Our clients love it and I'm really pleased with the results we've seen so far." Lege Artis is located at 27 Carlton Street, suite 201. For more information or to book an appointment, call 416 642 1382 or email info@lege-artis.ca. You can also visit the clinic's website at www.lege-artis.ca.
